ANNUAL ADMINISTRATIVE REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES, LOHIT DISTRICT FOR THE YEAR
2015-16

INTRODUCTION

Fish plays a vital role to the nutrition of our ill-nourished millions. Despite being an easily digestible protective food, enjoying the patronage of all sections of society, fish is not contributing to the extent as it is mainly due to the gap between demand and supply. Though fish is a very popular diet, its cost is often prohibitive for the common man to afford.

Lohit District is blessed with vast natural resources for development of capture fisheries, 997 hectares of water area in the forms of rivers, beels, lakes, Swamps with varieties of food value and ornamental fishes and cultural fisheries, 1400 hectares of water area in the forms of suitable wet land and marshy land for development of fish farms/ponds/tanks.

In order to tap these resources, the Department of Fisheries is making constant effort by providing various schemes like FFDA, RKVY, SPS, NFWS and apart from this, other schemes like MLALAD, SGSY are being implemented to boost up fish production and ensure its availability on demand and to eradicate un-employment as well as upliftment of poorer sections of the society. With the initiation of various Departmental and allied schemes, the scientific fish culture in Lohit District has gained momentum amongst the local people who are coming forward to take up the more schemes as a source of their livelihood, income and self employment.

The plains and climate of this District also added to viability of fish culture but the fund allocation in comparison to the scope of development is too meager and so also the manpower for proper supervision/monitoring of different schemes involving technical know-how.

However, apart from all these problems, the department of fisheries, Lohit District, Tezu executed all the approved schemes successfully with physical and financial achievement and even over shooting the physical targets in some cases.

FISHERIS ADMINISTRATION

The District Fisheries Dev. Officer is responsible for overall Fisheries development in the District and Asstt. Director of Fisheries in Namsai jurisdiction who are assisted by the Fisheries Officer, Fisheries Demonstrators and other auxiliary/supporting staffs for all round development and execution of various schemes .

6. CONCLUSION

The Department of Fisheries, Lohit District, Tezu has committed to fulfill the aspiration of the people in the years come. But due to meager allocation of fund no other developmental activities could be taken up this year. Though the District has huge aquaculture potential bodies and an adequate attention from the Government is need felt to harness its vast resources for socio economic development of the people of this District and the State as whole.
