

PS encourages innovative ideas

ITANAGAR, Jun 24: Fisheries Parliamentary Secretary Karya Bagang has encouraged the officers of her department to come up with innovative ideas that suit local conditions and can be utilized to make the best of available resources.

Participating in a meeting with fisheries secretary Dani Salu, director J Taba, DDFs and other officers of the department, Bagang said she would by all means place their grievances before the higher-ups, but demanded work culture and team spirit on the part of the department's officials and staffs.

Salu in his address advised the officers to stick to rules and regulations while rededicating themselves to the task of being of service to the state's farmers. Earlier, a comprehensive PowerPoint presentation on the department's activities and achievements was made.

Imbibe spirit of work culture: Bagang

ITANAGAR, June 24: Parliamentary Secretary (Fisheries) Karya Bagang, exhorted the officers and officials of Fisheries Department to imbibe the spirit of work culture.

Addressing a coordination meeting of fisheries department here yesterday, Bagang exhorted the officers to work in a team spirit for the welfare of the farmers and all round development of the fisheries sector. While assuring her all support, she encouraged the officers to come out with new and innovative ideas suiting local condition and utilizing local resources.

She assured to place all the grievances of the department as highlighted during the meeting before higher-ups and expressed her full confidence that all will be sorted out.

The Parliamentary Secretary reviewed implementation of various projects and schemes under the department during the previous financial year. (Contd. on P-5)

Imbibe spirit ...

✓ (From P-1) Earlier a PowerPoint presentation was made highlighting different activities of the department with physical and financial achievements in a comprehensive manner.

Addressing the officers, Secretary Fisheries Dani Salu advised the officers to stick to the rules and regulations, develop work culture. He urged them to rededicate themselves in the service of farmers and make this department vibrant and resourceful.

Director of Fisheries J Taba also spoke on the occasion.