

Times of Arunachal

Date :- 12th Sep'2016

Awareness camp on paddy cum fish farming held

AALO, Sep 12: One-day awareness camp on "paddy cum fish farming" was conducted by Department of Fisheries in collaboration with PRI members at Bogdo, Dego & Panya villages today.

While interacting with fish farmers and PRI members, Commissioner Fisheries Huzar Lollen highlighted the programme and policies of the department and encouraged the unemployed youth and farmers to take fisheries activities in the village for self-employment.

He also encouraged the farmers to take up the paddy cum fish farming so that their earning goes double. He discouraged the use of pesticides/weedicides to build more eco-friendly method.

The Commissioner was on a 4-days extensive tour to the district to get the first hand knowledge of various subsidy schemes being implemented by the Fisheries department of the district. He visited Kombo Tarsu, Darka etc and inspected all the infrastructure facilities of Fisheries department.

In his speech, DFDO Kenbom Chisi also stressed on the importance of paddy cum fish farming and requested all PRI members to cooperate with Fisheries department for successful implementation of any govt scheme. He also appealed PRI members to select 'genuine' beneficiary for implementation of any subsidy scheme. Remi Lollen, ASM informed that due to unavailability of fish seeds, many farmers are unable to take up fish farming in the village. (DIPRO)